This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

IT is with a feeling of satisfaction and pleasure, we offer this, the second volume of the German, Hanoverian & Oldenburg Coach Horse Association of America. The odd numbers of the stallions from 1 to 1329 are in volume one and the numbers 1331 to 3339 appear in this book. The mares even numbers run to 244 in volume one and from that number to 510 in this volume. In this preface it seems fitting to give a short history of this very wonderful breed of horses. They are probably the oldest and purest breed of horses now in existence, their history dating back to early in the fifteenth century to a purely Arabian foundation, since when they have been bred in their purity under the supervision of the German Government. The typical German horse is a bay, a brown or a black, sixteen to sixteen one-half hands high, and weighs 1,350 to 1,450 pounds. He has a deep round body, close ribs, well proportioned, neck long and high set on at the shoulders. Neat at the throat, with neat head with bright and intelligent countenance. His back is short and strong, smooth at coupling, tail well set, plump rounded quarters, strongly muscled limbs, strong hocks, clean flat bone and the best possible feet. Many of Germany's decisive victories in conflicts in the olden days are said to be due to the wonderful strength, courage and endurance of these horses, in charges made on the field of battle. The horse breeding districts of Germany are in the provinces of Oldenburg, Ostfreisland and Hanover, in the northern part, where the German Government has absolute control and these horses are bred under their strict supervision.

The government at convenient points has established studs, where the finest horses of the breed are gathered and where the breeders and farmers may have access to these studs. An annual tax is set aside each year to maintain these breeding stables. Books of record were established, and every care and precaution was taken to make and keep the breed absolutely pure, and no horse is allowed to stand in service in Germany unless he is duly passed upon by a committee appointed by the government.

By these strict rules of breeding for so many years the Germans have accomplished wonderful things. They have bred them very uniform in colors, being bays, browns or blacks, and being bred so long in these colors these stallions are able to transmit these solid colors to their offsprings from all kinds of mares. They have also produced a certain beautiful type or conformation, and while they may vary a little in size, the same elegant form and symmetry characterizes the breed.

Digitized by Google

They have paid very strict attention to soundness, no blemished or unsound stallions ever being permitted to stand for service, so they have established a breed that is about absolutely free from all blemishes, which is of great value.

As well as to produce a breed of great utility and beauty, it has also been their chief desire to have a breed of great style and fine knee and hock action, which they certainly have, and in elegance of form, style and breed unsurpassed.

The Germans favor a kind and tractable horse, so they have bred them to the highest order of docility and intelligence. Being bred in these lines for so many years, it is to be expected, and is no surprise that they are producing the grand type of coach, carriage and general purpose horses that they do. They can produce the solid colors, the uniform size and soundness, the elegant conformation, style, action and docility that make the ideal horse that finds a ready sale at high prices in our own, or any market in the world.

Our American breeders have seen this and this breed is fast growing in popularity. Other countries also realize this, and many buyers visit the breeding districts from Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Holland, Spain, Russia, France and England, making them higher and very difficult for our American importers to get what horses of suitable age they require.

While they are loth to let them go, as may be seen, a few mares have been imported to this country and a few have started breeding them in their purity.

Previous to the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893 the German Government voted a large sum of money to make a display of these horses at that fair, and sent over a fine exhibit of stallions and mares. At the great World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904 they again showed their enterprise, and the provinces of Oldenburg, Ostfriesland and Hanover each at great expense sent over a large exhibit of stallions and mares of this breed.

It is indeed with satisfaction and very much pride that we witness the great popularity attained in this country by this noble breed of horses, and we bespeak for them a brilliant future in the horse history of America.
